A Footsore Fable

Once upon a time there was a man who was lost. He wandered around for days, trying to find his way home. He would walk five miles down one road, until he discovered that it didn't lead to where he wanted to go, and then he would walk down another road. He was very unhappy, and his feet hurt.

After a long time he met another man, and asked for directions. The second man looked at him and said, "Isn't that a map sticking out of your pocket?"

"Yes," said the man who was lost.

"Then why don't you look at the map, and find out which road you should take?"

"My goodness!" said the man, "I never thought of that!"

Why should you wander all over town, looking for values and good buys, when you'll find an up-to-the-minute shopping map in the advertisements in this paper?

The answer is, of course, You shouldn't!

Save yourself many weary footsteps and precious, hard-earned dollars, by reading the advertisements carefully, every day.

Dixon Teacher Returns from Interesting Stay in West

A Dixon teacher with plenty of fascinating tales to tell about the west is Miss Esther Barton, who returned yesterday from an extended trip, during which she found time for five weeks of intensive study at Arizona State Teachers college at Flagstaff, in addition to renewing acquaintances with Indian friends met on previous travels, making new friends, and witnessing a series of ceremonial dances by various tribes.

Miss Barton, who is principal of the Lincoln grade school, experienced her most thrilling moment of the entire summer during a Katchina religious ceremonial on the Hopi reservation at Chinipovi, deep in the Painted Desert, when an Indian acquaintance, Steve Honanie, (Steve Pala Seiva), presented her with a woven plaque. She was told by a white trader that her gift was the first he had ever known to be presented to white folk during the Katchina rites.

Colorful Spectacle
Miss Barton's party traveled 150 miles across the Painted Desert to view the colorful spectacle, in which gifts (ranging from tiny, handmade Katchina dolls, bread and strings of hard-boiled eggs) are heaped on the ground, and presented to children. The dance, which is never performed except on the reservation, began about noon and continued until sundown, with brief intermissions. Indian girls whose weddings had taken place during the year appeared in their bridal robes to receive blessings, and old men of the tribe brought prayer sticks, which were sprinkled with corn meal and pollen, presented to the dancers, and later distributed among members of the tribe, to be planted in the fields.

The dancers, whose tribe is noted for its weaving skill, were wearing masks and high head-dresses. Only about a dozen white people were present.

The plaque presented to Miss Barton is a beautiful example of weaving. Its white and rust-colored design is woven against a black background, and is identical to plaques used for the sacred meal during the religious dance.

A Hopi Supper
In the evening, the Dixon teacher and her party were invited to have supper with a Hopi family, the simple repast consisting of hominy made with ashes, jerked mutton and bread, baked in a primitive outdoor oven.

CLASS OF '20

Dixon high school happenings of 20 years ago will be revived on Sunday, Sept. 8, when members of the class of '20 assemble at Lowell park for a reunion and picnic. Those who know the present addresses of classmates residing at a distance are asked to notify either Mrs. Marion Crim, at phone No. B647, or Mrs. Margaret Cleary, No. R113.

It scared me," Miss Barton reports. She purchased one of his paintings, a picture of two fawns feeding in the rushes.

Visits Observatory

From Cochiti, she went to Flagstaff, where she enrolled for courses in character education, Latin American history, and lettering at Arizona State Teachers college. She made numerous sidetrips from Flagstaff, visiting Lowell observatory, from where the planet Pluto, was discovered, visited the Grand Canyon on two occasions, viewed numerous scenic routes, and explored nearby cliff dwellings.

Enroute home, she stopped in Gallup to attend an inter-tribal ceremonial, the largest all-Indian event in the United States. Thirty-two tribes participated in the program, which included games, races, a rodeo, and selections by an Indian band. Fun dances were performed about four large campfires before the grandstand, with wagons and tents providing a colorful background on surrounding hillsides.

Silver, rugs, tomtoms, pottery, weaving, and other articles of handicraft were on display in a huge exhibit hall. Another interesting feature were the sand paintings traced by Navajos, who worked all day to complete the pictures and destroyed them at sundown. Sand paintings, Miss Barton explains, are usually made by medicine men as part of their healing process, and are often beautifully executed, particularly by Indians in the region of the Painted Desert, where sands in many vivid hues are found.

She later spent three days in Santa Fe, before proceeding to Pueblo and Dixon.

Ashton Make Takes Southern Bride in Tuesday Bridal

The Bethlehem Associate Reformed Presbyterian church at Due West, S. C. was the scene of the first wedding in its 50-year history on Tuesday evening, when Miss Julia Rebekah Johnson became the bride of Harold Richard Herbert of Ashton. Dr. E. B. Kennedy, read the vows at 6 o'clock.

Numbers of tall white baskets of white gladioli and calla lilies, against a background of trellises of southern smilax and palms, interspersed with lighted tapers in white cathedral candelabra, decorated the church for the impressive ceremony.

Proceeding the nuptial service, a program of wedding music was presented by Lewis McCravy, pianist, and Miss Nellie McCravy, vocalist, of Caronaca. The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional for the wedding party.

Miss Johnson's bridesmaids were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Samuel Johnson, Miss Dora Manley and Miss Mary Culbertson of Ware Shoals. They were attired in chiffon dresses of pastel shades and matching pique-bonnets. Their nosegays contained flowers to harmonize with their gowns.

For her honor attendants, the bride chose Miss Frances Braselton of Westminster, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Rachel Anderson, her sister, as matron of honor. Miss Braselton and Mrs. Anderson wore orchid and lavender chiffon gowns fashioned similarly to those worn by the bridesmaids.

Johnny Anderson, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a suit of white gabardine, and carried the ring on a heart-shaped pillow of white satin. The little flower girl, Bettye Johnson, niece of the bride, was dressed in powder blue organdie, and carried a pink tulle basket of rose petals.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Samuel Johnson. E. Bowles Dean of Greenwood was best man. Ushers were cousins of the bride, Rodney Simpson of Abbeville and Rodey Ellis, Jr. of Due West.

Miss Johnson chose traditional white satin for her wedding gown, which followed classic lines of the Floridian pattern of Italian Renaissance. The skirt was long and full, forming a train in back.

Her bridal veil of illusion was caught to her coiffure with a bandeau of seed pearls and orange blossoms. The bride's flowers were white orchids and lilies of the valley in an arm bouquet, showered with satin streamers.

Mrs. Johnson attended her daughter's wedding in a Copenhagen blue lace dress. Her flowers were pink rosebuds in a shoulder corsage.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a formal reception at the distinguished Pruitt House at Starr, S. C. Later, Mr. Herbert and his bride left for a wedding trip to New York City. For traveling, Mrs. Herbert wore a fall dress of navy blue, with navy accessories, accented by a corsage of Sweetheart roses.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Verner Johnson. She was educated in the Ware Shoals schools and finished Lander college in 1939.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Florence Herbert, and the late Reuben Ezra Herbert of Ashton. He is a descendant of Lord Hitchen, Devonshire, England. Mr. Herbert attended Lawrence col-

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:
"Excessive partiality to one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they affect to see danger only on one side, and serve to excite the passions of the people to the detriment of the country. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Roosevelt "Drafted"
—The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times
Probably all Americans would prefer to avoid the situation which now confronts them, a President nominated for a third term.

School boys know Washington and Jefferson urged against the third term and counseled that those who offered themselves be sternly and promptly rebuked.

On the surface it would seem the voter would find the solution simple—but we see no such conclusion.

For the crisis of the times lends itself to the sorry scheme, and the President who offers himself for the third term is a master political strategist, a master of plausibility.

He did not plan or desire to run, he said, as he accepted the nomination but. "Today, all private plans, all private lives have been repealed by an over-riding public danger. In the face of that public danger all those who can be of service to the public have no choice but to offer themselves for service in those capacities for which they may be fitted."

Are there in the English language more convenient words with which to excuse a third term candidacy? It even is possible the President has convinced himself by the plausibility of his own phrases. Otherwise, he conjures faithfully in the country's crisis and out of the people's fears.

But there are simple questions which, if answered, will help to clear the air, may even help the President out of his self-hypnosis, if such it is. They are questions which will not down and must be asked over and over during these next few fateful months.

Was the President "drafted," or did he know-

● SERIAL STORY
LOVE ON THE LINE

CHAPTER V
THE Taylors left Sioux Springs early. Carrie joined them after a hearty breakfast at Ma Parnley's. The wagon was piled high with supplies, most for Carrie's claim. She sat between Mrs. Taylor and big Ed, perched up in front of the load.

Carrie would never forget that morning. The sun beat down mercilessly, she thought, and she was glad that Ma Parnley had warned her to wear her biggest bonnet. Mrs. Taylor wore one, too. Big Ed Taylor, busy driving, didn't say much except to note the powdery dryness of the land.

"Seems," Ed said, "as if this is about the driest spell I've seen in a long time. Little rain would sure help this here prairie grass. Look at how brown it's gettin' now."

It was brown. Carrie sat there, bumping along, staring at the seared grass as far as her eyes could reach, and thought, with a shudder, it was almost hot enough to burn. She noticed, however, grass was greener along the bottom lands when Ed Taylor whipped his team of grays across Rock Creek an hour before noon and pulled up at Carrie's claim. While Mrs. Taylor got out their lunch, he unloaded supplies, stacked them near the soddy site. Then they sat down and ate as Carrie never remembered eating before.

The Taylors drove on to their own claim, a mile distant, after eating, promising Carrie to return early for her that afternoon. Carrie waved goodbye to the Taylors, standing there on her stack of supplies, and was thankful that such people lived. She watched them down the knoll and out of sight beyond the trees along Rock Creek. She was turning back to survey the things Taylor had driving across the creek in a buggy toward her claim. Instantly she was excited. She did not have long to wait. The visitor was Ashton Oaks. Carrie recognized him with a sudden fear, which she could not wholly disguise as he drove up.

OAKS, affable, immaculate in his cutaway and black hat, jumped down from the buggy, greeted Carrie as a friend.

"Well, well," he said, surveying ingly and willingly contrive by action or inaction to bring about his third term nomination?

Were the PEOPLE represented at this Chicago scene, where the President says he was "drafted"? Or was this, on the whole, one of the sorriest spectacles of political ward heeling ever staged in a convention, with hundreds of delegates there representing nothing but a city gang, paid and grown fat with Federal projects money?

AND WHAT IS THE TRUTH about the President's claim that he alone is best qualified to meet the present national crisis, the only "experienced man," as he MODESTLY says, capable of steering the nation through its difficulties?

All partisanship aside, what is there in the past seven years of this administration to justify the President's sublime faith in himself?

National debt, admittedly bordering on bankruptcy, with unemployment, if we disregard Federal work projects, almost at its peak?

Military unpreparedness, so serious as to constitute now the greatest element of the "crisis" which the President uses to justify his candidacy—a condition which, despite warnings, has improved but little since the President called it to the country's attention; a condition repeatedly called to official attention by Baruch and others as Hitler power rose in Germany?

Are we to believe, then, the President is the "only man" who can save the country in the crisis? IS THERE ENCOURAGEMENT IN THIS RECORD FOR BREAKING THE THIRD TERM PRECEDENT OF 150 YEARS?

But there is more than inconsistency in this third term position of the President.

THERE IS DEFINITE MENACE. THE PRESIDENT DOES NOT HAVE THE RESPECT FOR CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT which the ordinary citizen has and which, of course, should be the President's.

HAD HE THIS RESPECT HE WOULD NOT HAVE ATTEMPTED TO PACK THE SUPREME COURT, TO SECURE APPROVAL OF HIS MEASURES.

We assert the President does not take seriously the breaking of the third term unwritten law. Did he do so, he would refuse to run as did Washington and Jefferson. But even clearer than this is the fact that in no speech or statement has he so much as mentioned the subject, not even in his address of acceptance Thursday.

The President is a student of history. He has not failed to see that free government often has been made into dictatorship by easy stages of disregard of precedent such as the third term tradition of this country.

The conclusion is inescapable—he does not take the matter seriously, or excuses himself on the basis of the national crisis. He excused his Supreme Court packing attempt, which failed, on the same basis of emergency.

It is true the country faces a grave crisis. BUT THE PRESIDENT, IN THIS DECISION, HAS IMPOSED A SECOND CRISIS ON THE ONE WHICH ALREADY EXISTED.

We do not know whether the President is self-hypnotized or deceived by his inner circle of advisers.

BUT, DECEIVED OR NOT, THE PRESIDENT MUST NOT BE ALLOWED TO DECEIVE THE COUNTRY IN THIS TIME OF CRISIS.

Neither President Roosevelt, nor any other man, ever must be elected to a third term as President of the United States.

Confidence in government figures has been waning since politicians and publicity men, instead of economists started leading them out. Practice of choosing alternative statistics which place the government activities in the most favorable light has come to be expected.

Such estimates, as Roosevelt's calculation of more than 10,000 planes on the way may arouse smiles here, but not anger. Roosevelt got his total by adding on 3436 planes ordered before his defense commission was conceived, and 3654 upon which some advance paper work has been done but for which orders have not yet been placed. This is what is known in political trade here as political aggrandizement.

But the defense commission publicity office has been lapping over in the field of more daring, over statistical deception. Defense publicity director Robert Horton casually announced last Friday the Navy placed an order for 700 Grumman combat ships and newsmongers, including this column, published the information until the truth came out from Navy Secretary Knox five days later. The Navy had contracted for only 285 combat ships, less than half the number claimed.

Confronting Horton with the Knox announcement, newsmen succeeded in getting only a denial that the 700 combat plane claim had been made. To amuse themselves, newsmen thereupon circulated an affidavit which was signed by five or six who heard Horton speak to the contrary.

The confusion on defense statistics which has now followed the earlier period of secrecy will probably cause congress to establish a point committee to keep abreast of and an eye on the defense commission.

The exodus from the new deal is not over yet. Works Progress Director Harrington will be called back to active duty in the Army shortly after Roosevelt can do some inside fixing.

Incidentally, departed commerce Secretary Hopkins is anxious to be director of the new draft organization.

During the coming week-end the Methodists of the Rock River conference area, under the leadership of Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf, will hold their annual summer retreat at College camp, Lake Geneva, Wis.

There will be a Sunday morning mass meeting in charge of Bishop Waldorf and the retreat will close with a fellowship dinner at noon. Methodists and their friends of the Rock River conference are urged to attend. There will be no registration fee and no admission will be charged.

NEWT GALE was closing his livery stable at midnight when he glanced in the direction of the darkened land office across the street. A solitary figure crouched in the shadows.

"Um, that's funny now," mused Newt. "This time of night." He walked toward the land office. Suddenly the figure darted down the side of the building and out of sight. But not before Newt GALE recognized the flat-crowned hat and the cutaway coat of Ashton Oaks.

Wallace Accepts Nomination for Vice-Presidency
Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 30—(AP)—A Republican victory in November would result in "one economic concession after another" by the United States to totalitarian countries, Henry A. Wallace told a cheering crowd of fellow townsmen and party delegates here last night.

Before a gathering estimated by Police Chief Tom Watson at 7,000 persons, Wallace formally accepted the Democratic nomination for vice president, declaring: "Powerful elements in our opposition will, if the Republicans come into power, force us to make one economic concession after another to the totalitarian countries. These appeasers will have their way if the Republicans win, because they have contributed largely, both politically and financially to the Republican cause. These people believe the Republicans in power would give them profitable business with a German-controlled Europe at the earliest possible moment."

Wallace, who expressed belief that the American people would not "turn their back on the man that Hitler wants to see defeated," said that President Roosevelt has become "the symbol of democracy" particularly to the nations of North and South America.

Talks of Hitler
"Hitler must not be permitted to break the solidarity of the Americas," he continued. "If the Americas present to the axis powers the same divided front as the democracies of Europe presented to them, we shall assuredly walk the same path of destruction and lost freedom."

The current rearmament drive has produced "splendid" results, Wallace said, "but it is only a start. It will be pushed until America is fully prepared to defend herself against any emergency."

The speaker declared the "real attitude" of the GOP toward farm legislation was exhibited a month ago in Congress when Republican House members voted 106 to 38 against an appropriation for commodity loans.

"The Republican leaders say nice things about the farm program to get votes from the farmer," he said. "But when it comes to voting for the farmer, they don't deliver the goods."

"SHEEREST POPPYCOCK"
Washington, Aug. 30—(AP)—Re. Short (R-Mo.) termed "sheerest poppycock" today what he said was an attempt by Secretary Wallace to convince the country it would fall under Hitler's control unless President Roosevelt were re-elected.

Wallace, in a speech accepting the Democratic vice presidential nomination, said the Republican party was "the party of appeasement" and that replacement of the president "would cause Hitler to rejoice."

"For him (Wallace) to try and convince the country that it will fall into Hitler's clutches unless Roosevelt is re-elected is sheerest poppycock." Short asserted in a statement through the Republican national committee.

Senator Austin (R-Vt.) in the same committee statement, said that if Wallace's reference to "obstructionist tactics" encountered by defense preparation had referred to the Republican party, the sally "missed its mark."

"If the probable ratio of Republicans who were strong protagonists of defense preparation in congress and in the nation could be known it would be quite high, if not higher, than that of the new dealers," Austin said.

Senator Townsend (R-Del.) was quoted in the statement as saying that statistics of the agriculture department did not support Wallace's contention that farm income had "more than doubled" under the Roosevelt administration.

"Mr. Wallace has given us his keynote," Townsend added. "He and President Roosevelt are going to try and scare the country into voting them into office."

News Behind THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Aug. 29—Hitler's inside date for final victory over England has been September 15. This information was brought to the top here by a U. S. government employee who was captured by the Germans at Abbeville and lived among the German army officers before he came out through Switzerland.

The German officers talked freely before the fall of France about the date Hitler had fixed for its doom—July 15. They said the entire army was in on a little joke on der fuhrer and intended to press France into submission two weeks earlier than Hitler anticipated. France actually sued for peace June 28, thereby heightening the joke.

Unless Hitler delivers Britain within the two weeks yet remaining, he will have to deal with a problem of officer morale as his army has been thoroughly saturated with the optimistic expectation.

An American ambassador (not Bill Bullitt) in talking confidentially with house members, has predicted the United States will be in the war within four months.

His prophecy was founded on the expectation that Britain would fall and retreat to Canada, which would automatically force us to active defense of this hemisphere in accordance with our commitments.

This isolated opinion is not shared generally within officialdom here. The Navy particularly has been optimistic about British chances lately.

Republican congressmen held their heads and called for aspirin, upon learning of Wendell Willkie's renunciation of proffered Cabinet support. Elsewhere there may have been admiration for Willkie's straightforward courage, but among Republican politicians there was only mourning that it might cost the Republican ticket over a million votes.

The bitterest uniform custom of presidential candidates has been to accept support from all quarters, even Communists, until after election day.

No one has calculated how many Willkie may have gained from those who will be impressed by his unique honesty.

Confidence in government figures has been waning since politicians and publicity men, instead of economists started leading them out. Practice of choosing alternative statistics which place the government activities in the most favorable light has come to be expected.

Such estimates, as Roosevelt's calculation of more than 10,000 planes on the way may arouse smiles here, but not anger. Negroes Indicted for Death of Peace Officer
Carlyle, Ill., Aug. 30—(AP)—Booker T. Northcutt, 23, of Viola, Tenn., and Thomas Cousins, 22, of Paducah Ky., both negroes, were indicted by the Clinton county grand jury late yesterday on charges of murder in the Aug. 14 slaying of Deputy Sheriff Robert K. Hooker.

Indictments charging burglary and larceny were also returned against the negroes in connection with the theft of a shotgun and an automatic pistol from a farmhouse near Shattuc.

Pageant of Bible Prophecy at Camp Christian Tonight

Camp Christian, Franklin Grove, Aug. 30—A capacity audience is expected tonight at Camp Christian for the special illustrated lecture, "The Pageant of Bible Prophecy."

Dr. Gerald B. Winrod of Wichita, Kans., producer of the pageant, says that wherever it has been shown the largest auditoriums available have been packed. Conference tabernacle will be no exception, he says, because a great expectancy has been created in this community.

"It is an innovation to teach Bible prophecy by this medium," Dr. Winrod says. "We make the motion picture industry serve to teach prophetic truth."

"The pageant first goes back and gets root racial stock out of which modern races descended. We find the origin of these races in Genesis 10. We find the position they are to occupy at the close of the age in Ezekiel 38. By prophetic analysis, we know that the Russians descended from Magog, and that God of Ezekiel 38 represents modern Russia. We know that Gomer represents modern Germany."

"The audience will witness the rise of the ancient races down to the present time, and the building of the northern confederacy. They will see the Czar, Rasputin, the holy devil, Lenin and Trotsky, and the position that communism occupies in age-end prophecy. They will see the rise of nazism in Germany and the position it occupies in the prophetic pattern of the end-time."

"Then we flash upon the screen events in southern Europe. We go back five hundred years before Christ and trace the rise of ancient Roman civilization. We examine the seventh chapter of Daniel and show how this Roman beast is being revived today. Then we build the metallic image of Daniel's vision upon the screen. As a grand finale, we show how the governments of men will be destroyed by the second coming of Christ."

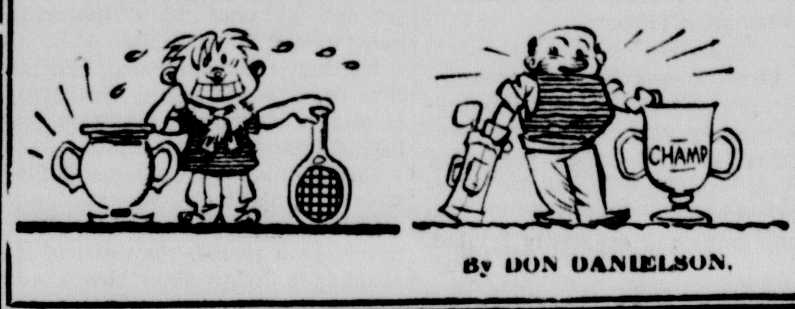

Dr. Winrod said there is no admission charge but that Friday night would be known as "quarter night" when everyone should try and take 25 cents as a free-will contribution for conference expenses.

Expect Record Crowd to See All-Star Game Sunday

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

STARS IN A SUMMER NIGHT

The sports calendar turned a new leaf in Chicago last night as the seventh annual All-Stars football game focused attention on the gridiron sport . . . the amazing performances of Don Hutson of the Packers along with the pluck and determination of Nile Kinnick and Kenny Washington of the Collegians filled the night with excitement.

The score of the Packers' 45 to 28 victory may indicate a track meet but the game had everything the fans could want with aerial thrills, fumbles, and even a place kick to top it off . . . the between-acts entertainment was superb and waves of patriotism swept over the record throng with soul-stirring anthems . . . during it all an anticlimax was felt as an airplane soared over the stadium with the lower wing fitted with an electric display which flashed first: "RIVAL" and then "DOGFOOD" . . . we can resist the pun that the world seems to be going to the dogs, but that these are trying times . . . in a crowd of nearly 55,000 persons we spotted Bob Preston of Dixon as he was leaving the stadium.

SIGHTS AT PLUM HOLLOW

Plum Hollow golfers are hopping the creeks at the course with the bridges temporarily washed out on Numbers 7 and 9 due to the recent rains. The lush vegetation and lowlands have turned the course into a veritable Limerick.

WILDCATS WIN MORNING FRAY

The West End Wildcats defeated the Daily News baseball team Thursday morning, 6 to 4. Williams and Callahan composed the winning battery. Ardell Bugg, first baseman for the United Cigar, played with the Daily News and went hitless. It was the first defeat in 14 games for the losers and a hard game to give up.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Telegraph sports department offers its congratulations to each and every one of the Illinois State League players elected to the all-star team and we wish them luck in the game Sunday afternoon. And to all those who helped conduct the poll and who have offered valuable aid and suggestions, we also extend our sincere appreciation.

INTER-OFFICE RIVALRY

A tennis tandem composed of Lois Stumeling playing with Earl Slagle, Jr., will meet Ed Uebel and Bob Johnson in a Telegraph office doubles match at the high school courts early next week.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES TO REPORT

About 70 candidates for the Dixon Ducks' football team will report to the athletic department at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon to be fitted for and receive their equipment. Coaches C. B. Lindell and Marvin Winger will welcome the boys following the summer vacation.

THANKS

Hi Emmert, manager of the All-Star baseball team wishes to thank those who elected him to the position and hopes to fulfill his job with credit to those who entrusted him with it. He believes the fans have selected an excellent and representative team from the league and will do all he can to bring them to glory in the game with the Peru Merchants here Sunday.

SUNDAY NIGHT GAMES

Two more Sunday night softball games are planned for the delight of the fans. In the first game this Sabbath the I. N. C. will trot out on the diamond in new suits which they hope will break their jinx and permit a victory over the Three Deuces. Lyle Fordham on the mound should help them considerably. In the afterpiece the James Billiards club will play the Freeport Kraft cheese team. Lefty Johnson will do the chucking for the Dixon aggregation.

MT. MORRIS CARDINALS HAVE TWO GAMES

The Mt. Morris Cardinals who will be hosts to the Illinois State League all-stars for Nelson Potter Day in October, have two games scheduled for the coming holiday week end. On Sunday the Cardinals will play the Rockford Moose club at the Mt. Morris high school field in a game starting at 2:00 o'clock. On Monday, Labor Day, the Cardinals will go to Rock Falls where they meet the Howe's All-Stars in a game starting at 2:30. Harvath and Martin compose the probable battery for both games.

ATTEND BIG SPORTS EVENTS

Mrs. Ernest Swan and daughter, Miss Emily, drove to Chicago today to attend the races at Washington Park. Carl Galos, Dean and Bob McCrystal and Miss Angie Luger were among those from here who attended the All-Stars game in Chicago last night.

Yankees' Spirit Is Catching As They Drive on to Molest Leaders

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

There is something catching about the New York Yankees' spirit.

They've already captured fans' imagination with a magnificent drive that has bagged 10 victories in their last 11 games, and they're liable to catch the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers, if the latter clubs don't watch out.

In an entire stand against the four clubs in the western division, the only game the Yankees dropped was a 1-0 squeeze-out to the Chicago White Sox. They polished off the St. Louis Browns, 10-3 and 6-5, in a doubleheader yesterday to show once more why they've been world champions four years, and may be for a fifth.

They reeled off ten runs in one merry-go-round inning to overwhelm the groggy Browns in the first game, and in the second they rallied three times to emerge triumphant in the 13th.

With two out and two on in the ninth, Joe DiMaggio, who had been on the bench with a charley horse, went to the plate and smacked Elden Auker's first pitch for his 25th homer to tie the score.

George McQuinn put the Browns back in front with a home run in the 11th, but again the Yanks deadlocked the count on Charley Keller's double and Buddy Rosa's single. Finally in the 12th, with two out and the bases loaded, Frank Crosetti caught the Browns napping with a perfect bunt down the third base line and squeezed the winning run home.

Enchanted Indians' Marcin

The victory reduced the idle margin over them to 4½ games.

It didn't get them any closer to second place, however, because the Tigers were busy in their own half, moving down the Washington Senators in a doubleheader, 3-2 and 6-0, to advance within two games of the lead.

Schoolboy Rowe, nearly as good a batsman as he is a pitcher, doubled the deciding run across in the first game for his 12th victory. Buck Newsom notched his 17th in the nightcap, abbreviated to six innings by darkness, Hank Greenberg helped out with a homer in each game, bringing his season total to 26.

In the only other American League game, the Boston Red Sox were handed a 4-3 decision by Johnny Rigney, who walked Joe Cronin with the bases loaded in the ninth.

The National League bunting has been more or less generally accorded to the Cincinnati Reds for sometime, but twofold developments yesterday came close to clinching it.

Dodgers Are Helpless

First, Harry Lavagetto, star third baseman of the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, underwent an appendectomy and, second, the Reds raided the Dodgers, 9-3, in a rain-drenched game. The Dodgers were helpless before the seventh-inning hurrying of Paul Derringer, bagging his 17th victory, and a 12-hit assault on five pitchers. This boosted the Reds 8½ games in front.

After the game the champs announced the recall of Johnny (Double No-Hit) Vander Meer, effective Saturday.

The St. Louis Cardinals obtained exclusive possession of third place by shutting out the New York Giants, 5-0, with Fiddler Bill McGee pitching two-hit ball. The Cards scored all their runs in the first inning, Martin Marion accounting for three by singing with the bases loaded.

The Pittsburgh Pirates extended their winning string to eight straight by shutting out the Phillies, 4-0. Mace Brown held the tail-enders in check until the eighth, when Danny MacFayden was rushed to duty as the Phils' savior with a couple of hits.

Sailor Bill Posedel shanghaied the Chicago Cubs with five-hit pitching to give the Boston Bees a 3-1 triumph.

REYNOLDS HOLD EDGE IN DIXON SOFTBALL RACE

Freemans Win First Tilt In Series for Third Place Honors

The city's four best softball teams must have paid the weatherman some sort of hush money last night, because he relented after three nights of drenching to permit the championship series to open at the Airport ball yard.

In the opening game the Freeman club won a 7 to 5 decision over the United Cigar in the best-two-out-of-three series for third place honors. In the nightcap the Reynolds wiremen won the league championship were a step nearer the city title with a 6 to 3 triumph over the High Life club. The series will be resumed tonight.

In the important nightcap contest the High Life club took the lead in the first of the third inning on a single by Helmick and one error. Helmick tagged with the run. The wiremen came back to knot the count in the last of the same stanza when Grove scored on a hit and error and a double by Flanagan.

Deciding Inning

The fourth inning decided the ball game. In the first half the High Lifers tantalized their rivals by nabbing two runs on hits by Slain and Fane and two errors. Slain's hit was a triple. The winners came back with five runs on four hits, two walks and a fielder's choice in the last of the same inning. Singles were clouted by Page, Fordham and Grove while Lynch was credited with a two-sacker.

Flash Fordham was the winning pitcher and he was rapped for six hits, walked one and struck out five. Helmick did the chucking for the High Life and was tagged for eight hits, walked two and struck out four.

FOR THIRD PLACE

The Freeman shoe team booted the United Cigar in the preliminary game last night as the two clubs opened their series for third place honors.

Freemans took the lead with three runs in the initial frame and one run in the first of the fourth before the United Cigar tied the count with four runs in the last of the same inning.

Freemans took the lead in the first of the sixth but the persistent rivals again knotted the score with a run in the seventh when Carlson doubled and scored on Kirkey's base hit. The winning runs were counted in the first of the seventh when Pitman scored on a hit of his own and came in on an error.

If the 5,344 ballots cast in The Dixon Evening Telegraph's all-star baseball poll are a true indication of the interest in the Illinois State League, Reynolds Field will be jammed with a record-smashing crowd here Sunday afternoon when the fans' team meets the Peru Merchants at 2:30 o'clock.

Hi Emmert, manager of the league-leading Knacks, who was chosen by 2,242 fans to pilot the all-star club, today named his probable batting order for Sunday's tilt. John Powers, heavy clouter of the Amboy team and all-star first baseman, will lead off. Bus Carlson of Dixon as second sacker will be next man to bat followed by Webb Challand, all-star left fielder of Shabbona. Shires Miller of Dixon and center fielder on the team, will bat in clean-up position. He will be followed by Shortstop Studzinski of Maytown, Right Fielder Welty of Amboy, Catcher Full of Walton, Third Baseman Flach of Amboy and Pitcher Eckhardt of Steward.

Others On Team

The all-star team also includes Knauer of West Brooklyn, Spolar of Walton and Howe of Dixon on the pitching staff, Windmiller of Shabbona as first baseman, Foster of West Brooklyn as second baseman, Prestegard of Dixon as third baseman, Flanagan of Dixon as shortstop, Kuhn of Dixon, Grove of Steward and Lynch of Amboy as outfielders.

Manager Emmert has named J. H. Michel of West Brooklyn and Joe McGrath of Amboy to assist him as coaches. Walter Studzinski who totaled the largest number of votes with 3,159 for shortstop has been named as the team's captain.

Practice Tonight, Tomorrow

A practice session of the all-stars has been called for 4:30 this afternoon and another brushing-up will be held at Reynolds field tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. All players who are not working have been urged to attend.

For the convenience of the fans, the public address system of Chester Barriage will be installed at the field and lineups and details of the game will be furnished.

Attending the event are three minor and major league scouts before whom the all-stars will "strut their stuff" in the hope that some may be deemed worthy of advancement in baseball circles.

Harry Cone of DeKalb will be umpire in chief and Harry Downs of Dixon will be one of the base umpires.

Helped Hold Leagues

Back in the World War Griffith virtually saved the major and minor leagues from shutting down. He did it by a long talk with Secretary of War Baker, but getting the jump on the draft helped.

Under the direction of army sergeants all of the big league teams abandoned morning practice for drills and then put on public drills before every game.

"They used bats instead of guns," said Griffith, "but let me tell you they were in shape and ready and really had a four months start on the fellows who hadn't been to camp."

When the work-or-fight order came down in July, 1917, the old fox explained he reminded Baker that the ball players had been drilling for four months and asked him to wait until September for the players.

Baker said he realized the first months in camp were spent in conditioning and drilling and agreed to the suggestion.

"But," said Griffith, "if the secretary had said 'no,' we'd have called off that afternoon's game and done whatever was wanted. That's the way we are this time."

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Dixon Has Three Teams in Ashton Softball Tourney

The championship of the annual Ashton softball tournament, for several years the coveted climax to the season for many teams of this area, will be decided in a series of games which begin at Kerten field Labor Day night. Twelve teams, three of them from Dixon, are included in the tournament this year. With the strong clubs of Reynolds, United Cigar and High Life scheduled for the event, there becomes a strong possibility that honors may be nabbed by a county seat aggregation.

Included in the teams competing for the $75 prize money are Sycamore, Dixon United Cigar, Rock Falls Sullivan, Dixon High Life, Ashton, Sterling Sipes, DeKalb, Mendota, Rochelle Hub, Amboy, Dixon Reynolds Wire and Rochelle AA Shoes.

Three games are scheduled for each of the first two nights of play, beginning at 7 o'clock, while on the remaining three nights there will be two games beginning at 7:15. In case of rain any night of the tournament the schedule will be carried over an additional day.

The $75 in prize money is to be divided among the top four teams, $35 for first place, $25 for second, $10 for third, and $5 for fourth. Competition should be keen from the standpoint of substantial prizes as well as a good lineup of teams.

Kerten park, the finest softball park in northern Illinois, is very adequate to accommodate huge crowds. The loud speaker system and competent announcers makes possible every play to be heard in any part of the park, and the improved lighting arrangement makes every play easily seen.

Following is the schedule:

Monday Night

Game 1—Sycamore vs. United Cigar, 7 p. m.

Game 2—Sullivan vs. High Life, 8 p. m.

Game 3—Ashton vs. Sipes, 9 p. m.

Game 5—Hub vs. Amboy, 8 p. m.

Game 6—Reynolds Wire vs. AA Shoes, 9 p. m.

By The Associated Press

Springfield held the Three Eye League lead all alone today.

The Brownies moved into undisputed possession of the top rung with a double victory over Madison, 6 to 2 and 4 to 3, while Cedar Rapids was breaking even with Moline. The Plowboys won the opener, 2 to 1, but Cedar Rapids took the nightcap, 5 to 0, to stay a game behind Springfield and two and a half games ahead of the on-rushing Decatur Commies.

The Commies won their 10th in a row and the 15th in their last 17 starts by trouncing Waterloo again, 10 to 5. Tonight they open a second place showdown series with Cedar Rapids. Last night's other engagement, a double header between Clinton and Evansville, was rained out.

PACKERS BLAST COLLEGIANS IN AERIAL ATTACK

Record Crowd Sees Pro Team Win Seventh All-Stars Game

By TOM SILER

Chicago, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Now the college boys know only too well why the Green Bay Packers and their unexcelled end, fleet Don Hutson, are the scourge of the National Football League.

The All-Stars, 69 players seasoned by four years of college football, moved into Soldier Field last night, forewarned and presumably forearmed for the prowess of the mighty Packers' dazzling overhead attack.

But their advance information was useless. The Packers put on one of the most sparkling exhibitions of passing in the history of football, pro or amateur, whipping the All-Stars, 45 to 28, in the seventh game of this series. The victory gave the pros a three to two edge, two games being ties.

The 84,567 spectators, a record-breaking crowd, were shocked in the first minutes to see the amateurs drive to a touchdown in the wild-scoring foray. Amby Schindler of Southern California set up the tally with an intercepted pass, and then scored on a six-yard dash inside right tackle. Nile Kennick, Iowa's sensational star of 1939, dropped the point and the All-Stars seemed to be off to a victory matching that of 1937 over the Packers.

Characteristic Style

Then the Packers struck in the style characteristic of their pro campaigns which have brought them five national titles. Cecil Isbell, onetime Purdue star, lost 19 yards on an attempted pass, putting the Packers on their own 21. Hutson, who holds all the league pass-catching records worth mentioning, then raced down the middle, took a perfect 51-yard pass on the run and footed the remaining 30 yards for the tying touchdown.

Less than two minutes later, the Packers recovered a fumble on the All-Stars' 26 and Isbell shot a touchdown pass to Carl Mullenau, an end. But the All-Stars refused to be daunted, driving 36 yards for the tying tally. Kenny Washington, U. C. L. A. Negro star going over on a spinner.

Again the Packers went ahead with tantalizing ease. Taking the ball on their own 35, the Packers scored in three plays. Arnold Herber, Green Bay's ace passer for a decade, tossed a short one to Andy Uram who galloped 46 yards for the score. Near the end of the period, Isbell hit Hutson in the end zone with a 35-yard pass.

The new buildings will include a mess hall, one of the two largest in the army; a new radio school, 90 barracks, quarters for bachelor officers, six administration buildings, a fire station, guardhouse, two post exchanges, six recreational buildings, 24 storehouses and three warehouses.

General Electric and Krupp Firms Indicted

New York, Aug. 30.—(AP)—In what federal prosecutors termed the most important national defense indictment yet returned, a special U. S. grand jury today indicted the General Electric Company and the Krupp Company of Essen, Germany on charges of conspiracy to fix prices and restrain interstate and foreign commerce in hard metal composition tools and dies.
Named with General Electric and Krupp were Walter M. Stearns of Schenectady, manager of trade relations and special contracts for General Electric; the Carbonyl Company of Detroit, wholly-owned subsidiary of General Electric; W. G. Robbins, president, and Zay Jeffers of Cleveland chairman of Carbonyl.
The government charged that the Krupp corporation, famous for many years as Germany's chief source of war materials, held a veto power over the issuance of patent licenses to American firms in the manufacture of hard metal compositions used in machine-cutting tools.
The department was unable immediately to find any records on Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby.

Dr. H. Douglas Singer, State Alienist, Dies

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30.—(AP)—The death of Dr. H. Douglas Singer, state alienist and professor of psychiatry at the University of Illinois college of medicine, was described as a "tremendous loss" today by state Public Welfare Director A. L. Bowen.

ment or discussion—under threat of attack from Hungary and Bulgaria, supported by the powerful Rome-Berlin axis.

Despite repeated Berlin assertions that the axis powers attended the Vienna conference only to "guide and help" the Balkan nations settle their quarrel, government sources in Bucharest said that the Balkan nations must do "or else."

Hitler has insisted that the Balkans remain quiet to safeguard the smooth flow of oil and grain supplies from southeast Europe into Germany while the reich pushes its all-important battle again Britain.

Russia May Back Down

With German troops manning Rumania's frontier, soviet Russia was expected to adopt a softer tone than the stiff virtual ultimatum reported earlier today in Moscow.

Before the Vienna "bargain" settlement terms became known, the Kremlin was reported to have demanded an "early and satisfactory" reply from Rumania regarding alleged "provocative actions" by Rumanian troops on the Rumanian-Russian border.

The soviet note also contained a warning of "grave consequences" for any future incidents.

Meanwhile, a reported growing German conviction that the war will continue at least through the winter-blighting Hitler's timetable for an early conquest of Britain—was repeated in a dispatch from Les Verrieres, on the French-Swiss frontier.

If true, it would indicate that the nazi fuhrer has forsaken plans for an invasion of the British isles this year.

To Remove Prisoners?

The dispatch said that because of the expected winter-long continuation of the conflict, the German army of occupation in France planned to remove all French war prisoners—more than 1,000,000 of them—from the nazi-occupied zone and take them to Germany.

On the war front, waves of nazi bombers and fighting planes, estimated at 400, twice sought to attack London early this afternoon and twice were dispersed by violent anti-aircraft fire and RAF defense planes.

An hour-long battle raged south and east of the British capital's outskirts before the German raiders were put to flight.

The British air ministry announced 19 nazi planes were shot down up to 2 P. M. London time (7 A. M. CST). The Berlin wireless asserted 39 British planes were downed as against six German planes lost.

Other waves of German attack swept over northwest England and bombed the great textile center of Manchester.

Berlin asserted that great fires were left raging also in England's huge back-door industrial and shipping port of Liverpool, the scene of increasingly furious nazi assaults.

PRESIDENT SEES EFFORT TO GET HIM TO DEBATE

Declines to State His Position on Draft of Industries

(By The Associated Press)
Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 30.—President Roosevelt charged today that efforts were being made to involve him in a political controversy over a provision of the conscription bill authorizing the government to take over private industrial plants.

He declined at a press conference to answer Wendell L. Willkie's demand that he state his position on the provision, asserting that an attempt was being made to involve him in a political discussion.

Let us all acknowledge it and stop there, the president said.

The provision, inserted in the conscription bill before it passed the senate, would empower the chief executive to take over plants or facilities when the secretary of war or secretary of navy was unable to negotiate an agreement with the owners for production of defense needs.

Asked whether he approved the amendment, sponsored by Senators Overton (D-La.) and Russell (D-Ga.), Roosevelt inquired in turn whether reporters remembered an old rule of 1933.

Does the president comment on legislation, amendments or rules pending in congress? he asked.

"Sometimes he does," a reporter remarked.

On Wallace's Speech

Roosevelt declined also to be drawn into a discussion of whether he concurred with Henry A. Wallace's statement, in his speech last night accepting the Democratic vice presidential nomination, that the Republican party "is the party of appeasement."

He said he did not think a question along that line needed an answer, that the Wallace speech spoke excellently for itself, as he told the secretary in a telegram last night.

The president listened to the Wallace speech by radio after sending his running mate a telegram saying he was sorry he was unable to be in Des Moines to hear it. Later he congratulated the secretary on the address, and said, "You have made a glorious start."

Roosevelt read reporters a reply, which said:

"Your two wires were greatly appreciated by the Wallaces. I hope we have made an appropriate beginning in upholding your hands in the defense of democracy. It is heart-warming to work for appreciation such as yours."

Wallace said in his address he did not believe the American people would "turn their backs on the man Hitler wants to see defeated."

Has Noticed "Smoke"

Reminded that Lawrence W. Robert, secretary of the Democratic national committee, had been under fire because of statements that his Atlanta architectural firm had received nearly $1,000,000 in fees on defense projects, the president said he had noticed a great deal of smoke.

And, he said, if there is any proper fire behind it, he hoped congress would go right after it.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) demanded in Washington yesterday that Roosevelt call for Robert's resignation. Robert in Des Moines said he would welcome an investigation of his contracts and "the quicker the better."

In the defense field, the chief executive said in response to a question that excellent progress was being made in conversations with Britain on American acquisition of naval and air bases on British soil in the New World.

But he said he could not forecast when a definite announcement of some sort of action might be made, and could not enter into a discussion of it.

Concerning Appointments

The president suggested that reporters had better check, but that he thought there had been some action taken to locate vital defense establishments in the interior as part of the present defense program.

For 20 years, he said, experts who have been making periodic reviews of the national defense have been recommending the locating of munitions plants as far as possible from likely points of attack.

The president said he probably would nominate a successor to James A. Farley as postmaster general this week or the beginning of next, that he thought there would be no appointment of a chairman of the National Labor Relations board until he got back to Washington next week, and that he probably would see Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, in Washington next Wednesday.

Farley leaves office Saturday. J. Warren Madden's appointment as NLRB chairman expired earlier this week.

Conscription of—

Declaring this authority would set up a "potential dictatorship," Willkie's statement continued:

"No such sweeping powers were ever heretofore granted to a president of the United States even in time of war. This amendment, if it becomes law, will further impede and disorganize the defense program at the very time when we must speed it up."

"It will constitute a threat to the American labor and particularly union labor, for the president of the United States some time ago told American labor: 'You cannot strike against the government.'"

"Wallace a Gentleman"

After issuing his statement, Willkie listened by radio to the speech of Henry A. Wallace accepting the Democratic vice-presidential nomination.

Asked for comment on the assertion of the former agriculture secretary that the Republican party "is the party of appeasement," Willkie said:

"There can't be anything more wrong than 100 per cent wrong, can there?"

Then he added, "Mr. Wallace is a gentleman."

In terms of the Overton-Russell amendment to the conscription bill an issue of "momentous importance," Willkie said:

"I put this up to the president now and I hope that he does not answer with any quip about how Wendell Willkie loves property and he loves humanity."

"I say, without any personal criticism of the president, that it has been his good fortune at every stage in his life to possess and enjoy more wealth and more income than I have. This is as true today as it was in the past."

"Democratic Way"

The majority of Americans, Willkie said, will welcome senate passage of the conscription bill as "the most democratic way" of creating a defense army. He said, though, that if he were a house member he would vote against it should the Overton-Russell amendment be retained.

"This is a revolutionary bill," he told reporters.

"There is hardly any business of any kind today that may not be subject to seizure under this provision because practically any product could go into the defense program."

"Conscription of wealth is a catch phrase that converts a chestnut horse into a horse chestnut."

Willkie decided today to abandon tentative plans for a week-end visit to Lake Wawasee in northern Indiana.

He expressed pleasure over an invitation from Carter Davidson, president of Knox College at Galesburg, Ill., to debate with President Roosevelt on the steps of "Old Main," where one of the Lincoln-Douglas debates took place.

"I can think of no more appropriate place to discuss one of the important issues of the day in the tradition of Lincoln and Douglas, each of whom felt a deep obligation to present his views to the public, when they were seeking public office," Willkie told reporters.

Searcy Sees Republic

"Going Under" if Given to Tammany Hall Control

Marion, Ill., Aug. 30—(AP)—State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, speaking at a Republican Day rally at the Williamson county fair, said today it would require 54 per cent of the state's tax-assessed property to pay Illinois' share of the present national debt.

"Illinois owes 54 per cent of her assessed property valuation toward the 49-billion dollar national debt," Searcy said. "If we turn government over to Tammany management, our republic will go under."

Reducing his computation to terms of local property values, Searcy said "thirty-five per cent of all privately owned property in Williamson county would be confiscated if the people of the county were called upon today to pay their share of the national debt."

The city elementary schools include: Byron, Creston, Forreston, Kings, Monroe Center, Mount Morris, Oregon, Polo, Rochelle and Stillman Valley.

Training Planes Stressed in New Equipment Order

Washington, Aug. 30—(AP)—The government's emphasis on the purchase of training rather than combat planes was stressed anew today in the controversy over orders for aircraft.

The latest contract, announced by the Army Wednesday, called for 580 training and 20 transports costing $14,410,233. Delivery dates were not specified.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) stirred up the controversy last week with an assertion that only 343 combat planes had been ordered in the last 100 days. President Roosevelt later confirmed the correctness of that figure but said that Byrd's implication was dead wrong.

The president added that one of the prime objectives of the air program was first to acquire training planes to instruct pilots for a major air fleet. Secretary Knox voiced the same thought yesterday in outlining the orders placed by the Navy and struck at what he termed "unintelligent criticism" of the program.

Combined figures from the White House, Army, Navy and Defense Commission gave this overall picture of military planes ordered but not yet delivered:

Planes for which contracts have been signed—7,231.

Planes being built under letters of intention from the government—3,654.

Total on order—10,885.

Taking only the planes for which contracts have been signed (7,231), Navy and Commission figures give:

Combined planes—Navy, 1,031; Army 1,858; total, 2,889.

Training and other planes—Navy, 1,500; Army, 2,842; total, 4,342.

Two Senators Decline to Soak at "Peace Mobilization" Meet

Chicago, Aug. 30—(AP)—Speakers at the emergency peace mobilization here tomorrow will not include Senators Gerald P. Nye (R-Ind) and D. Worth Clark (D-Idaho).

Telegrams announcing their withdrawal from the scheduled program were made public yesterday by the Committee to Defend America by Keeping Out of War, sponsor of the mobilization which will be held tomorrow, Sunday and Monday at the Chicago Stadium.

Several days ago the national labor committee of the Socialist party charged that the rally was "Communist-inspired," while Murray Playner, director of the Foundation for American Youth, contended that "the Communist leaders" of the American Youth Congress had a part in the meeting's arrangements.

More than $7,000,000,000 in gold has entered the U. S. from abroad in the past two years.

Illinois High Schools Aid in Defense Plans

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30—(AP)—High schools in at least 25 Illinois cities will turn over their shop equipment for a continuation of the program to train men in defense industries this fall and winter. C. A. Bell, state director of vocational education, said today.

Bell said approximately 10,000 machinists and workers in allied industries had received additional training in high school shops during the summer and that the program would be continued. New classes will begin next month.

Men now employed who desire additional training may attend night classes while selected unemployed men, including WPA workers, will be trained in the afternoon, Bell said.

"Manufacturers' participation has been of immense value," Bell said, "for they have furnished teachers from their own ranks, have assisted in training materials and have urged selected employees to attend the classes".

Third Term Blasts

EX-GOV. WHITE'S BOLT

The Cincinnati Enquirer, long-time Cincinnati journal, comments as follows on the bolt of former Governor George White: Former Governor George White of Ohio has been identified with the Democratic party all his life, and with Franklin Roosevelt ever since he was national chairman of the party in 1920 while Mr. Roosevelt was campaigning for the vice presidency. His decision to vote for Wendell Willkie is therefore an event of some significance.

Although he has not submitted a bill of particulars, Mr. White appears to have reached his decision almost entirely on the principle of opposition to a third term. x x x His break with the party now reflects a thoughtful and public-spirited man's conviction that the nation will be the better off if presidents are limited to two terms.

Because he is close to the people of Ohio, because he is acting without ulterior motive, and because he is not a chronic bolter, George White is likely to carry a good many thinking Ohio Democrats with him in his decision to support Mr. Willkie.
Mr. Roosevelt has made the major blunder of his whole career. He has repudiated the action of the father of this country x x x Franklin Roosevelt's mistake in judgment can be corrected by the American people on election day next November.

Fortunately the country can turn at the polls to Wendell Willkie—an able man, a patriotic man—a man who saw service overseas in the last war, a man whose ideals are not less, passionately American than those of the incumbent president.
Great Britain changed from Chamberlain to Churchill in the midst of battle.
America can change from Roosevelt to Willkie in time of peace.

—Alden (Minn.) Advance
The political party which in convention assembled, in Chicago, recently nominated the chief executive of this country for a third term is not the Democratic party, as started a century and a quarter ago by Thomas Jefferson, nor is it the Democratic party which, in 1932, nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt to be its standard bearer. x x x The New Dealers have run away with the old time Democratic party, lock, stock, bottle and barrel, and it is possible that as a result of the "smelly" politics pulled at the recent so-called Democratic convention, the party founded by the third president of the United States is about to pass into oblivion.

—Gresham (Ore.) Outlook
When Arizona Lew Douglas, a life-long Democrat, quit the third term party and declared himself for Willkie against Roosevelt and his third term aspirations, the president called him "an amiable and honorable gentleman whose slant of mind runs more to dollars than to humanity." F. D. R. should know about both dollars and humanity, for he has run the country into the red more than ten million dollars a day for every day that he has been president to the benefit of both humanity and his political career. —Brewery Gulch (Ariz.) Gazette.

In designating some one else a "money lover" Mr. Roosevelt left himself and family wide open for the enemy broadsides. No president, in the memory of millions of voters at least, has made use of the White House position as has Mr. Roosevelt and members of his family. The facts are well known and speak for themselves. —Pottsville (Pa.) Journal.

His (Roosevelt's) acceptance of a third term nomination is the most dangerous threat to our way of living since we ran the British out of America. —Socorro (N. M.) Chieftain

140 Rural Schools in Lee County to Resume Sessions Coming Week

Rural schools in the Lee county system will resume classes Tuesday, although a few scattered districts reopened their schools last Monday.

This year the number of rural schools in Lee county which will have resumed activity by the first of the week will total about 140. About three rural schools which remained closed last season because of small enrollments will open next week while a like number will remain closed for the same reason, and pupils will be transported to schools in adjoining districts. ## To Extend Civil Service to Men in Conservation

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30 — (AP)—State Conservation Director Thomas J. Lynch said here that civil service would be extended to all employees of the conservation department after an examination to be held Sept. 30.

Lynch said the decision was made about five months ago after a conference with J. Emery Lancaster, chairman of the state civil service commission, and examinations for the posts not formerly under classified service were posted early this month. The closing date for application is Sept. 3.

Lynch said approximately 200 employees were affected by the service extension, including superintendents, inspectors, wardens, biologists and other field specialists. The office employees of the department, he said, are under civil service at present.

The director said the decision to bring all employees under classification was influenced by amendments to the civil service law passed by the 61st general assembly.

The amendments defined and clarified seniority status, promotions and job requirements, making application of civil service to formerly unclassified jobs easier. Plans for the service extension were reviewed at a conference yesterday by civil service and conservation officials and details of the change were explained to representatives of several sportsmen's organizations.
